

23P01: Idaho State Police pre-employment (direct interrogation)

Pre-test Instructions

The Idaho State Police wants to ensure that none of its employees have ties to criminal groups or have participated in illegal activities that would disqualify them from employment. This test will determine if you have been involved in these activities.

First, we want to ensure that none of our employees have personal involvement with gangs or with organized crime. This includes being a past or current member of a gang, or organized crime group, providing assistance to, or receiving a personal benefit from these groups. Gangs and organized crime groups have tried to infiltrate law enforcement by sending operatives to apply to work for police agencies. If hired, the operative uses his position to commit crimes, or to serve as an informant. Associating with a gang or organized crime group is a serious crime. It may be punishable by up to 20 years in prison.

Examples of criminal groups could include: Mexican gangs such as the Sureños 13, SVC, or Northsiders. It could include skinheads or Aryan gangs and motorcycle gangs such as the Hell's Angels. We are committed to the security and protection of the state of Idaho. We will aggressively pursue and prosecute anyone working on behalf of a gang or an organized crime group.

Second, we want to make sure that you have not been involved in illegal activities that would disqualify you from employment with the Idaho State Police. In this test, the disqualifying activities are: 1) involvement with illegal drugs, 2) commission of a serious crime, and 3) unreported work-related discipline.

To be certain, you will be disqualified from the hiring process if, within the past 5 years, you have used, bought, possessed, or sold illegal drugs such as cocaine, heroin, LSD, PCP, meth, or designer drugs such as Ecstasy (GHB) or synthetic cathinone or any other similar illegal drug. This also includes using prescription drugs that are not written for you, for recreational use, to get high. You will also be disqualified if, within the past 3 years, you have used, bought, possessed, or sold marijuana, synthetic marijuana (Spice or K2), inhalants (huffing), hallucinogens (mushrooms), or anabolic steroids. This also includes being convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol or any of these illegal substances, within the past 5 years.

You will be disqualified for committing a serious crime, as an adult, whether you were caught or not caught. A serious crime is an illegal act against a person or property which, if caught and convicted, would result in prison time.

Examples of serious crimes could include theft, theft of items from an employer worth more than $100, bribery (giving something of value to illegally influence someone), vandalism (deliberate destruction of property), criminal mischief (damaging or destruction with criminal intent), vehicular hit and run, physical assault, domestic violence (physical or mental abuse of a spouse or partner), arson, burglary (entering a building illegally), robbery (taking property from another by force), insurance fraud, identity theft, forgery (creating/altering an official document), vehicle theft, child abuse, sexual abuse of a minor (physical sexual contact with persons under 16 years of age as an adult), possession of child pornography, sexual assault (rape), exhibitionism (indecent exposure in public for a sexual purpose), prostitution, filing a false police report, perjury (intent to mislead under oath), illegal high stakes gambling (more than $500), illegal possession of a weapon, kidnapping, or any degree of murder.

And, you will be disqualified from the hiring process if you have lied about any past disciplinary actions at work. This includes lying about getting fired, forced resignation, demotion, discharge, suspension, written reprimand, investigation, or any other actions taken by a previous employer for cause. This test will verify your credibility about participating in these illegal and disqualifying activities.

In summary, this test will ask if you have any involvement with gangs or with organized crime. And, you will be asked if you have been involved in activities that would disqualify you from working for the Idaho State Police. For purposes of this test, the disqualifying activities include (1) involvement with illegal drugs in the past 5 years, (2) use of marijuana, synthetic marijuana or anabolic steroids within the past 3 years, (3) commission of a serious crime as an adult, or (4) lying about past disciplinary actions at work, as an adult.

If you have been involved with a criminal group or have done any of these disqualifying activities, please inform the test proctor now.

Before you begin the lie detection test, you will be shown a set of practice questions. These give you a chance to get used to reading and answering True/False on the computer.

The practice questions ask about crimes that we are sure you did not commit. There also will be questions unrelated to any crimes. In all cases, it is important that you answer truthfully.

In addition to responding accurately to test questions, you must respond quickly. If you take too long to answer, even though your answer is correct, the computer will report that you were lying on the test. To pass the test, you must be accurate and fast.

During the practice test, there will be a short time limit for each question to encourage you to read and respond quickly. If you do not respond quickly enough, you will see a "Time Limit Expired" message, and you will hear a tone. You will not be allowed to answer after the tone. Expired time limits will be counted as errors.

While you take the practice test, keep your chin in the chinrest. Move your eyes to read. Keep your head still. Do not adjust any equipment. Do not look at your fingers. Do not talk or make any unnecessary movements.

Read each question and press the green button or the key labeled T if it's True. Press the red button or the key labeled F if it's False. After you press either the button or the key, the answer you chose will be highlighted briefly on the screen. The next statement will appear automatically.
