File: A13 139 252

In re: ⁽¹⁾Henri LEBEVRE

APPLICATION: Temporary admission to the United States pursuant to Section 212(d)(3) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, despite inadmissibility under Section 212(a)(28) of the Act.

The applicant was born on June 16, 1901, in Hagetmau Landes, France, and is a citizen and resident of that country. The Department of State has found that he is ineligible to receive a visa because of his membership in the Communist Party of France since 1928. He is a professor of sociology at the University of Paris and seeks to enter the United States at New York City during April 1967 for 7 days to address a colloquium on that subject at the New School of Social Research in New York City.

An order authorizing admission of the applicant was entered by the Service previously. The Department of State and the consular officer at Paris recommend that admission be authorized since such action would be consistent with United States policy aims and interests. Upon careful consideration of the information relating to the applicant and the recommendation of the Department of State reflecting the benefits which will accrue to the United States by virtue of his temporary admission, it is concluded that the recommendation should be approved.

IT IS ORDERED that the application be granted, subject to revocation at any time, valid for a single entry during April 1967, at New York City, and for admission for 7 days for the above indicated purpose.
